3-Year Steelworker Pacts at GC Steel, American, Laclede

Peace — it's wonderful. Labor peace was achieved at three major Quad-City industrial plants Thursday night and Saturday.

New three-year agreements generally following this summer's basic steel industry settlement were approved — with production interruptions — by the United Steelworkers of America and Granite City Steel Co., American Steel Foundries and Laclede Steel Co.

The latest acceptance was voted Saturday afternoon by employees of the Madison plant of Laclede Steel.

The two sides had voluntarily extended their deliberations beyond Sept. 30 without a work stoppage.

Agreement on a new contract was reached between the United Steelworkers and Granite City Steel Co. a few minutes before midnight Thursday when the old contract expired. The union had said there would be no time extension.

While details of the new pact were not disclosed pending the work agreement in a meeting between union and company officials at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday, it was understood from union sources that contract terms basically will follow the old contract on some of the issues that took the negotiation within a few minutes of the deadline.

Joint Announcement
Announcement that agreement had been reached was made in a joint statement by John Hundley, vice-president of industrial relations, and Thomas Griffin, director of the Steelworkers Granite City subsidiary.

The agreement averted a strike that had been authorized by the five union locals at Granite City Steel two weeks ago. Picket assignments had been made and workers were prepared to walk off their jobs at midnight had no agreement been reached, union officers said.

Contract terms were not made known officially. It was reported by union sources that a cost differential alleged to exist between the basic steel industry and Granite City Steel was not altered by the wording, and that safety regulations, another point in the talks, also were unchanged.

A major change in contract terms fixes the expiration date of the new pact as Aug. 1, 1974. The change was made as a union request, although the company was reported to prefer an Oct. 1, 1974, expiration date.

In the past, contracts at Granite City Steel ran 60 days after completion of contracts by major steel firms.

Union officials said that hereafter the Granite City Steel contracts will expire Aug. 1. Granite City Steel, through its merger with National Steel Corp., has become a part of the big steel industry, they commented.

The Granite City Steel Co. agreement affects 2,850 workers belonging to United Steelworkers Locals 16, 30, 67, 68 and 4063 (guards). Nearly 1,000 of the plant's other workers belong to Chemical Workers Locals 50 and 784 (guards).

Others are members of Bricklayers Local 65, Hod Carriers and Laborers Local 179, Boilermakers Local 483 and the Blacksmiths Union, who work under separate contracts.

As in the case of the new agreements for United Steelworkers at the Laclede Steel Co. plant at Madison and at the American Steel Foundries in Granite City, the new pact at Granite City Steel follows the basic steel agreement consummated last Aug. 1. All contracts are for a three-year period.

The agreement provides wage hikes of 3.0% over the three-year contract period and cost-of-living guarantees. This increase includes a minimum raise of $1 over the current average pay of $3.45 per hour, with 50 cents payable immediately upon completion of the agreement and 12.5 cents hourly in each of the next two years. The cost-of-living raise provides 12.5 cents per hour increase during the second and third years of the agreement.

A new agreement for 1,000 members of United Steelworkers Local 3806 at American Steel Foundries was announced late Thursday at Hammond, Ind., where negotiations were conducted for contracts at four of the company's plants — Granite City, Indiana Harbor, Hammond, Ind., and Alliance, Ohio.

A spokesman at American Steel Foundries here said the new contract embodies only slight changes from that which expired at midnight Thursday. Like other new contracts for steelworkers in Quad-City area plants, wage and fringe benefits follow the pattern set in the basic steel industry pacts negotiated in August.

American Steel officials will begin negotiations immediately to obtain new working agreements with the International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers and the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers. Their contracts with American Steel expire Oct. 15.

Negotiations also are to begin soon, the spokesman said, for a new contract with the St. Louis Association of the Patternmakers League of North America whose contract expires Oct. 31.

The two cities as one unit will receive $36,213 as a share of a $185,000 allocation granted to some communities in Madison County to hire unemployed residents to city jobs. The two will be required to make a contribution of $3,622 as a 10% share of the grant.

Madison and Venice were selected for the grant after the Collinsville City Council decided upon participating in the program and the extra funds became available. Venice acted Thursday night and the Madison Council is to meet at 7 p.m. today.

Other cities to share in the grant are Granite City, to receive $82,516, including $5,520 in matching funds, and Alton, to receive $80,016, including a contribution of $8,390.

To be eligible for jobs, applicants must be currently unemployed.

A similar program is under way in Madison County, under the direction of Dan Churovich of Granite City, in a $44,000 program in which 17 persons have been employed so far.

Churovich said that persons interested in the program may apply for jobs by first filling out applications at the office of the Illinois State Employment Service.

FIRST TRANS-OCEANIC SHIP to travel north of the Chain of Rocks Locks, the Mini Lama, docked at the Granite City Wharf Thursday. The 215-foot "mini-ship" is the first of a fleet of similar vessels which will serve the local harbor, shipping directly to the Caribbean, Central and South America and other Mississippi River ports.

Simon, Howlett Due at Governor Says Dinner Here on Sunday Lake Park Soon

The annual John F. Kennedy campaign dinner, sponsored by the Madison County Democratic Central Committee will be held on Sunday, Oct. 10, starting at 4:30 p.m., at the Venice-Madison American Legion Home, 740 Broadway, Venice.

The annual event for the past several years has attracted practically all state and county candidates of the Democratic Party together with office holders.

It has consistently drawn in excess of 600 people at $25 per plate and "all indications are that this figure will be exceeded this year," a spokesman said.

State dignitaries here will include Lt. Gov. Paul Simon, Auditor Mike Howlett and State Treasurer Alan Dixon.

Illinois Governor Richard B. Ogilvie, addressing hundreds of fellow Republicans Thursday night at a dinner at SIU-SW, built a detailed case for his reelection in 1972 by citing many accomplishments in the state in general and Madison-St. Clair Counties in particular.

In his recital of progressive steps, he included the Horseshoe Lake state park, subject of a public bill-signing ceremony in the fall of 1969 but not yet the scene of tangible headway toward creating a major recreation area and wildlife refuge.

"We are going to do it. We will get the lake developed," Gov. Ogilvie said, calling attention to the aid of a member of the audience, Henry D. Kar-andjiff, Granite City banker who is chairman of the Illinois Horseshoe Lake Area Commission.

Ogilvie attributed the delay to the complexities involved in acquiring a large amount of land in the lake area. Many of the parcels of property have been purchased by the state and others are in the process of being bought, the governor related.

Ogilvie also called attention to efforts to establish a major metropolitan airport in Illinois near St. Louis, commenting that the $550 million project will be the most modern anywhere.

The governor noted that adoption of a state income tax received bipartisan support and said it was essential to continue existing state services. No governor candidate will urge its repeal, he forecast.

Ogilvie said highways are being built in record volume, including this region.

He said school and university funds also have been boosted greatly; the opposite impression has resulted because later budget increases could not be as large as the increases granted in the first year of income tax.

Introduced by former U.S. Senator Ralph T. Smith, a native Granite Cityan, Ogilvie said the state has achieved more in the last three years than in the previous eight years.

Participating in the raids here, after the suspects had been under surveillance, were Mr. and Mrs. John Huckle, 1735 Rhodes Ave., Oct. 3, John Todd, seven pounds, 15 ounces.

Venice, Madison Plan Emergency Employment

Resolutions authorizing applications for fund allotments under the federal Emergency Employment Act are being adopted by the cities of Venice and Madison.

The two cities as one unit will receive $36,213 as a share of a $185,000 allocation granted to some communities in Madison County to hire unemployed residents to city jobs. The two will be required to make a contribution of $3,622 as a 10% share of the grant.

Sufficient signatures have been obtained on a petition calling for creation of a Downtown Granite City Mall, clearing the way for a public hearing on the proposal soon, Mayor Donald Partney has notified city council members.

The mayor said a hearing date will be announced as soon as preliminary plans prepared by Harland Bartholomew & Associates, St. Louis planning and engineering firm, are updated. Planning for the project has been under way since early 1969.

Completion of the petition requirements is expected to permit a beginning on construction by early spring, Mayor Partney said.

The petitions are directed to the Granite City Board of Local Improvements which was specially created a year ago by the city council to handle the mall project as a special improvement project. Under state statutes, the project may be financed by special assessments levied by the local improvement board against the owners of property abutting or located within the proposed mall area.

Would Create District
The petitions ask the Board of Local Improvements to conduct public hearings on the proposal and to levy the assessment of costs. The petitions also ask that the mall and redevelopment project be created officially as Downtown Local Improvement District No. 1.

Developed as a means of revitalizing the downtown area, the project has the full support of the Granite City Council which confirmed the mayor's appointment of the Board of Local Improvements. The board includes Mayor Partney, Alderman Walter Nunn of the Fifth Ward, Street Superintendent Lionell Portell and Second Ward Alderman Frank Greenwald.

They have been working with a committee of the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce headed by Henry Gabriel in planning the project and studying the best financing methods. Originally, plans called for voluntary financing by merchants whose property would be improved by the mall, but the use of special assessments to guarantee financing is now considered the best method of accomplishing the work.

Parking Changes
Proposed improvements include the widening and improvement of abutting sidewalks on 10th Street from Niedringhaus Avenue to State Street, and the creation of on-street parking spaces with angle parking, change of curbing, planting of trees and shrubs to beautify the area, and to facilitate the control of pedestrian and vehicular traffic.

The program also would include installation of serpentine streets and the widening of pedestrian travelways on Niedringhaus Avenue from 20th Street to 19th Street, with change of curb and sidewalk line for control, access and parking by vehicular traffic.

The petitions for a public hearing and creation of the Downtown Improvement District required signatures by at least 51% of the owners of property within or abutting the district.

"The construction of the mall now appears certain and we anticipate no further difficulties in achieving a start on construction early this spring," Mayor Partney said.

Small Business Loan Clinic Set Thursday

How the Small Business Administration may help small businessmen obtain federal contracts will be explained at an SBA mini-clinic in East St. Louis Thursday.

Plans for the clinic, which will be held starting at noon, in the Holiday Inn, were announced by Robert A. Dwyer, midwestern regional director of the SBA.

"The Small Business Administration is well known for its loan activity," Dwyer said. "However, there is much more to our agency than just that. In fact, an integral portion of SBA programming in the area of procurement of federal contracts by small businessmen. Among topics to be discussed at the clinic, Dwyer said, will be the SBA's set-aside program, under which certain federal contracts are set aside for disbursement only to small businesses."

Price Urges Greater Tax Break to Help Economy

Rep. Melvin Price (Democrat, East St. Louis) has urged a renewed commitment of the 92nd Congress to take speedy legislative action on the major proposals left unfinished during the summer recess.

"As we enter the home stretch of the first session of the 92nd Congress," he said, "we have an urgent responsibility to enact the measures of vital importance to the nation's economy, among other things."

"President Nixon's freeze on wages and prices was long overdue. The administration's budget deficit for fiscal year 1971 was $10 billion dollars, the second highest price since World War II. The Congress must work quickly to help insure that the inflationary gap between wages and prices does not open up again when the freeze is removed."

Speaking at length on the monetary situation, Price put forth concrete suggestions to recover the economy. "It is imperative," he said, "to provide the broad-based of individual taxpayers with a meaningful incentive to purchase consumer goods."

"To accomplish this goal, I am urging that the increase in personal exemptions to $750 per dependent and the increase in the standard deduction to 1970 be made effective to 1971."

"This would provide all taxpayers with a meaningful tax reduction and a significant refund in early 1972, which would go immediately into the economy by way of increased purchases, production and stimulated employment."

"In addition, I will continue to urge the adoption of legislation to adjust personal exemptions according to annual variations in the Consumer Price Index or the cost of living."

Rep. Price directed his comments toward President Nixon's tax package, currently being considered by the House Ways and Means Committee. The President's economic program basically provides for a restoration of the investment tax credit at the rate of 10% effective Aug. 15, and at a permanent rate of 5% after Aug. 15, 1972.

Business Advantage
Representative Price said, "While the tax advantage to business and 10 million buyers of new automobiles would total $8 billion fiscal '72 and $9.4 billion in fiscal '73, the President's tax proposals would make the $750 personal exemption and the increase in the standard deduction to 1970 effective in 1972. However, the resulting impact would be almost insignificant reduction in 1972 withholding rates for the average individual taxpayer."

Although Representative Price recognized the obvious benefits to business and new automobile buyers, he was quick to add that "the relief to the 70 million other individual taxpayers is almost negligible. In short, the President's proposal does not go far enough in ensuring the future health of our economy."

"No doubt President Nixon's tax break to business and select segments of the citizenry would be of some help to certain sectors of the economy. The least Congress can do is implement this much," said Rep. Price. "But the majority of private citizens may feel slapped in the face by the definite business orientation of the President's proposal. It is my sincere hope that the program will be expanded by Congress to remedy the inherent inequities and restore a truly healthy domestic economy."

Reflecting on the accomplishments of the Ninety-Second Congress to date, Representative Price expressed a sense of satisfaction: "The House of Representatives has completed action on eleven of the fourteen major appropriations bills, passed welfare reform and increased social security benefits, approved the revised military draft provisions, authorized numerous environmental protection provisions, and approved increased Labor-HEW appropriations including an extra 100 million dollars for cancer research, to cite just a few of the major pieces of legislation."

Among the bills signed into law this session, a 10% increase in social security and railroad retirement benefits, an additional $150 million for reduced-price school lunches, $3,146,211,000 for the Office of Education, and the 18-year-old vote.

Representative Price continued, "I regret that the President vetoed the Accelerated Public Works measure designed to combat unemployment and help cities meet pressing local water and sewer requirements. At least he saved it to sign the Emergency Employment Act."

The Emergency Employment Act authorizes $2.25 billion for public service employment and manpower services. However, Price said that this provision is still not enough.

"The Emergency Employment Act is welcome, to be sure, but due to the unusually high unemployment in St. Clair County, the amount of money available for effective relief under the act is not sufficient."

"I am working closely with the Secretary of Labor in an effort to obtain enough additional funding to put a substantial

Church Begins Drop-In Baby Sitting Service

The Christian Women Fellowship of Central Christian Church in seeking out needs in the Quad-City area, found several day care centers where children are enrolled, but no drop-in baby sitting service where parents can leave their children.

To fill this void a baby sitting center opened today, making baby sitting available on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays from 9 a.m. to noon and 1:30 p.m. It is staffed by members of the CWF.

The cost is 50 cents per hour for one or two children and 75 cents per hour for three or more children. The center is in the nursery of Central Christian Church, 2020 Johnson Road.

The service is for mothers who desire to go shopping, work in volunteer activities or go to church or community meetings. Mrs. Dan Brooks is director of the center and all families in the community are welcomed and encouraged to use the service.

City Plan Graduate Course Set at SIU-SW

Special concentrations in city planning and regional planning are offered in a new graduate degree program at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern. The master's degree sequence was approved on Sept. 8 by the Illinois Board of Higher Education. It will be offered by the faculty of earth sciences.

The curriculum will extend over two years, with 72 quarter hours the minimum necessary for the graduate degree in planning and urban geography. In that time, the student will take a required core of classes, a specialized concentration in city planning or regional planning and write two major research papers or a thesis.

The new planning curriculum more than meets the suggested requirements of the American Institute of Planners. Students must meet the requirements of the SIU-SW graduate school to participate in the program. If the student has a 3.7 (B-minus) average or better he may be granted unconditional admission. A C-plus student may be admitted on a conditional basis.

Soccer Cougars Roll Over Rockhurst 5-2

Southern Illinois University-Southwestern's soccer team, ranked No. 5 in the nation, put on a devastating attack Saturday to turn back the strong challenge of Kansas City's Rockhurst College Hawks, 5-2.

The victory ran SIU-SW's season record to 3-0 and dropped the losers to 3-1.

In the victory over Rockhurst, it was "Dino" Deinowski, the darling of the rapidly becoming rapid SIU-SW soccer crowd of more than 3,000 who turned out despite the major league playoffs and college football on TV, who put the Cougars out in front, 1-0. He took a pass from John Carenza and booted the ball into the net as they crowd went nuts early in the first period.

Little (5'-4") Deinowski, playing the outside right spot, has really been adopted, noisily, by the just learning fans on the Illinois side of the river. In fact, everywhere the Cougars have played this season, in Kansas, New York and back home, the fans have been cheering and chanting: "Dino... Dino... Dino" everytime he gets the ball... and by both friends and foe alike.

Control Dribbling
His ball control and dribbling is equal, for want of a comparison, to the best of soccer fan-ware of the lure of soccer can understand.

understand, to that of a Bob Cousy in basketball or a Bart Starr in football. His rapport with the crowds is almost like that of those in Arnie's Army. And not one iota of show-boating either.

The victory over Rockhurst marked the third straight time Coach Bob Gueller's Cougars have handed a foe their first loss of the season. The University of Ottawa was undefeated before SIU-SW's triumph, 2-0. Last week, the University of Akron was 3-0 before bowing 4-0 to the Cougars.

Coming up this coming Saturday at Cougar Field (1:30 p.m.), it will be the University of Illinois, Chicago Circle, which will bring a perfect 3-0 record against the Cougars.

SIU-SW's scoring Saturday against Rockhurst, two goals by Chris Carenza, one by John Carenza, and one by Tom Twellman, should warn future foes. The Cougars have a multi-pronged attack which will be tough to stop.

Two In Minute
And, in addition, they have Tommie Howe and Tom Galati, both of whom can score. Chris scored his two goals in a span of one minute's time to completely wipe out any hopes Rockhurst had of upsetting the Cougars.

But it was SIU's great defense — fullbacks Rich (Granddaddy) Neitzert and Denny Driscoll and halfbacks Tom Galati, Vince Fassi and Kevin Howe — which really made possible the Cougars' control of the ball and gave Gueller's charges a better than two-to-one advantage of shots-on-goal of 37 to 16. Rick Benben's shut-out record in goal came to an end on a fluke in the second period when Rich Suifs made it 2-1 by scoring Rockhurst's first goal.

SIU-SW's physical condition was also decisive in the mid-summer heat. Gueller has the Cougars running and applying the pressure every second.

Coach Aved
The youthful Rockhurst coach, Tony Tocco, who played his college soccer (as a goalie) for Gueller at St. Louis University, walked off the field ruefully shaking his head after the game.

"My boys simply were over-awed by SIU-SW's national ranking and your large field took a great deal out of us," he said, and added: "SIU-SW will be extremely tough to beat. In fact, I really don't see anyone beating you unless you get a tough break like losing the Carenzas by injuries, or something like that."

Upcoming SIU-SW foes are University of Illinois, University of Missouri, St. Louis, Eastern Illinois University, fourth-ranked Quincy College, the University of Jacksonville, the University of Wisconsin, Parkside, national champion St. Louis University, and the University of South Florida, Tampa.

Not a breather among them.

MADISON HIGH SCHOOL BAND sounds off with a stirring march prior to a football game against Robinson, Ill., here Saturday. Under the leadership of Drum Major Jim Schrader, the band played both prior to the game and at half time. The drum section added excitement to the game as drum rolls preceded every kickoff.

MADISON TROJAN ROGER GLASPER (No. 32, on the ground) is stopped on the 47-yard line after earning a first down during the MHS gridder 32-7 loss to the Maroons of Robinson, Ill., Saturday afternoon on the Trojan field. Robinson players are in the white uniforms. Trojan End Chris Stanley scored Madison's only touchdown and Linebacker Randy Graville kicked the extra point. The Trojans will travel to Sparta, Ill., for a game at 8:15 p.m. Friday.

Robinson Stops Madison, 32-7

The gridiron Trojans of Madison High School had to wait until the fourth quarter to enter the scoring column in their home game Saturday afternoon and by then the visiting Robinson High School eleven had more than enough points for victory.

Robinson's Maroons racked up 12 first-quarter points and that 12-0 advantage still held at half-time. The lead was doubled to 24-7 by the end of the third period.

Steve Burnier put the visiting squad on the scoreboard initially by running ten yards for a touchdown and a short time later Chris Kaley chalked up a four-yard TD run.

Kicks for the extra points failed, as did the kick after John McKeighan had run 30 yards for a touchdown after the halftime intermission.

McKeighan scored again in the third quarter on a 58-yard TD gallop. A run for two points after the touchdown was halted short of the goal.

In the fourth period, the combination of Quarterback John Newsome and End Chris Stanley clicked for an 80-yard Trojan touchdown pass play. When Rick Woodard booted the extra point, Madison had whittled the deficit to 24-7. Robinson then rebounded to tally on a 28-yard pass play from Mike Brush to Tony Butcher. When Steve Burnier ran the ball across for a two-point, the lead was built to 32-7.

Warrior Kickers Primed for Gibault, Collinsville Games

Fresh from its 2-0 victory over St. John's of St. Louis last week, the Warrior soccer squad will meet Gibault of Waterloo at 4 p.m. tomorrow on the soccer field near the Wilson Park softball diamond.

Coach John Sellmeyer said his confidence in the new squad and stated he expects victories against Gibault and against Collinsville on Thursday.

St. John's was expected to be one of the most powerful soccer teams on this season's schedule and is favored to win the championship in the St. Louis Metropolitan High School Soccer League.

The Granite City kickers not only won that game—they dominated it, promising a very successful season ahead.

The Warriors concentrated on conditioning drills and running during the weekend. "We tired quickly in the heat against St. John's and we are going to be to be in better condition as the season progresses, particularly during tournaments," Sellmeyer said.

Drills also centered on offensive strategy with more use of the sides of the playing field. "We were all hunched in the middle during the last game, which is not good," the coach stated. Full use of the field and teamwork may be the keys to open the Gibault defensive line and will likely be used extensively tomorrow.

Teamwork was a major problem in the first half of the game against St. John's as most attempts on goal were one man efforts, all unsuccessful. In the second half the Warriors began playing fine offensive soccer, keeping the Lions on the defensive and holding the action near the visitors' net.

PACING THE LINE of his reserve players, Coach John Sellmeyer, new Granite City High School soccer coach, calls players to the field during the Warriors' opening game against St. John's of St. Louis. The Warriors dominated the game, winning 2-0. They host Waterloo Gibault tomorrow and Collinsville Thursday.

WARRIOR GRIDIRON PILEUP. Fullback Gary Lively, 175-pound Granite City athlete, is on top of the pile but his forward progress has been halted in this view of Friday night's game at GCHS, won by Collinsville 14-0.

Kahoks Stun GC Gridders, 14-0

By STEVE BURDGE
GCHS Football Writer

The Granite City football Warriors suffered their first defeat of the season here Friday night at the hands of the Collinsville Kahoks, 14-0. It was the first Southwestern Conference game for the Warriors and damaged their title hopes.

With Joe Wallace devoting his time to linebacker, Junior Clay Winfield took over the quarterbacking duties for the game.

Stan Stajduhar, the Warriors' leading ground-gainer, carried the ball only 14 times compared to 47 times in his last game. He gained a total of 88 yards against Collinsville for 6.2 yards a carry.

In the scoreless first half, the game was played evenly, with Granite City holding a 5-3 edge in first downs. In the second half, Collinsville established a good running attack, with a good passing game mixed into its offense.

The running success was due mainly to the work of Kahok Quarterback Ben Milster and his two halfbacks, Jack McClain and Larry Simpson.

In the first quarter, neither team could sustain a long drive. The two teams exchanged punts four times.

In the second period, the Warriors got the ball on their own 20-yard-line after a punt.

After three running plays and two penalties, they were on their 16.

From that point, Fullback Gary Lively took the ball to the 35 on three successive runs. On the next play, Stajduhar broke loose and raced 52 yards before being brought down on the Kahok 15-yard-line.

Lively then took the ball to the 10-yard-line, but two straight losses brought up fourth down.

Wallace attempted a field goal. When the kick went wide, the half ended with the score 0-0.

After two third-quarter punts and a missed field goal by Collinsville, Granite City was forced to punt deep in its own territory. It was a short kick, and the Kahoks gained the ball on the Warrior 31.

A run by McClain and a pass from Milster to Simpson took the ball to the 17 for a first down. Two running plays took the ball to the eight.

With third down and one yard to go, Granite City's defense held. But on fourth down, the Kahoks gambled and did not go for the field goal. They made a first down at the Warrior three-yard line.

After a one-yard gain and a loss of three yards, Quarterback Milster took the ball over from the five-yard-line. The kick then provided a 7-0 Collinsville lead.

For $10,000 by Clients
A suit for $10,000 plus interest and costs has been filed for Gilbert R. Ellis and Gary L. Ellis against State Farm Mutual Automobile Insurance Co. in Madison County Circuit Court.

According to the complaint, a 34-ton truck owned by Gilbert Ellis and driven by Gary L. Ellis was involved in an accident causing the death of Arthur Davis on Sept. 8, 1966, while the owner of the truck was insured with State Farm, with the policy including a $10,000 clause to cover the case.

A law suit was filed against the Ellises on Feb. 23, 1968, in behalf of the Davis estate, and the complaint charges that a settlement for $9,000 had been negotiated, that the insurance company wanted the Ellises to pay $3,000 of the amount, which they refused to do, and as a result a $20,000 court judgment followed.

The insurance company paid $10,015 of the judgment, including interest, but that $10,000 plus interest remains unpaid and constitutes a lien on the property of the Ellises. The complaint charges that the insurance company owed a duty to negotiate in good faith and to settle within the policy limits, and charges a breach of good faith and obligations under the contract.

Versatility Is Key to Players' Successful 'Fantasticks' Show

Reviewed by IRVIN SLATE JR.
That "The Fantasticks" is a thoroughly enjoyable and captivating show has been demonstrated by its super-long New York run and successful road companies. The East Bank Players have done it justice in their production was proved at the performances Friday and Saturday nights in the Grand Ballroom of the Elk's Club.

The show was an ideal vehicle for the local company, combining a stylized set, small cast and challenging roles. The company responded to the challenge with great vigor and total success.

The staging required no scenery in the usual sense but featured a purple curtain with the show's name in pink letters. The props were handled casually and discarded when no longer needed. The emphasis was on versatility and talent, not on production.

Certainly, no performer stole the show as they were all excellent. From the clear soprano of The Girl, Debbie Hightower, through the silent movements of the Mutes, Susie Brockus Riddle and Debbie But versatility and charm joined by El Gallo.

Candidates for President May Campaign in Illinois

By RAY SERATI
Copley News Service

Springfield—Presidential candidates could be coming to Illinois to fight for the attention of delegates to the national nominating convention under new legislation signed into law by Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie.

Under the new law, candidates running in the March primary election for the delegate post will either have to name the presidential aspirant to which he is committed or the word "uncommitted" will have to follow the name.

This could mean that potential presidential candidates will be coming to Illinois to try to line up as many "committed" delegates as possible.

However, Chicago's Mayor Richard J. Daley, the state's top Democratic Party boss is reported to be favoring a plan to have as many "noncommitted" delegates to run as possible.

This would then still cast him in the role as the top man at the nominating convention. By yielding a large delegation at the convention, Daley can command the respect of the potential candidates, and he does at every convention.

Of course, under this new law a potential presidential candidate could come into Illinois and run an entire slate committed to him. But this would be difficult to do, especially if the candidate were to bypass party leaders.

This would be the fastest way for a candidate to go down the drain in Illinois, by going to court the party leaders. It could mean that the national candidates might be courting the party leaders at a heavier pace than in previous years.

Another convention bill signed by Ogilvie would permit the delegates to be apportioned according to congressional districts.

Apparently the selection of the way the delegates will be chosen will be left to the individual parties.

In the main, they appear to be favoring the committed-non-committed plan.

Ways to Cut Aid Cost Still Being Studied

By RAY SERATI
Copley News Service

SPRINGFIELD—Indications still continue that state welfare cuts are to be made in the Illinois public aid program, but to date no definite outline has been formulated as to where the cuts will be made.

Apparently the cuts will be later in coming, if they come at all, because of the recent changes in the administration of the Public Aid Department.

Harold O. Swank, who had been the director of the Department since it was formed in 1962, resigned and was replaced by Edward T. Weaver, who had been the director of the Children and Family Services Department.

Officials in the Administration of Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie say that before any cuts could be proposed in welfare spending programs, Weaver will have to become accustomed to the job. Also, Weaver undoubtedly has some ideas for various programs and they will have to be considered.

Gov. Ogilvie already has cut $65 million from the annual welfare expenditures of $1.3 billion for fiscal 1971-1972. This does not count the deficiency appropriation that had to be approved early in this year's session.

Ogilvie and his Bureau of the Budget have been maintaining that there isn't enough money to go around for the ever-increasing public aid cost along with the financial needs for public higher education.

This year, higher education needs have been increased with the opening of more junior colleges.

The Public Aid Department is continuing on the formulating of a plan that calls for the employment of able-bodied public aid recipients.

Ogilvie in a special public welfare message to the General Assembly called for the placing of able-bodied recipients to work at various government projects. Some testing of such employability has been under way in the Chicago area.

Meanwhile, officials will continue to study just where money cuts can be made, if they are to be made at all.

Joseph Franko, 77, Dies in Hospital

Born in Australia, he had lived here since 1929. He retired in 1951 from Columbia Terminals, where he was employed as a truck driver. He was of the Catholic faith.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mary Franko, four sons Robert, Joseph, Edward and James Franko, all of Granite City; two daughters, Mrs. Eleanor Vaught of Collinsville and Mrs. Agnes Kantner of Highland; two brothers, Frank Franko of Kansas City, Mo., and Sylvester Franko of Overland, Mo.; two sisters, Mrs. Josephine Davidson and Mrs. Rose Graves, both of St. Louis, 16 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Capitol Comment -- Ogilvie Vs. Simon or Foran in '72

By KEN WATSON
Copley News Service

Springfield—It's Simon or Foran.

An old Illinois political tug-of-war is resuming as Democrats move closer to their 1972 slate-making with Chicago Mayor Richard Daley having the final say.

Once again it's Downstate versus Chicago.

Downstate Democrats are all out for Gov. Paul Simon for the nomination for governor.

Chicagoans are now leaning strongly toward Thomas A. Foran, attorney and prosecutor of the Chicago Seven.

The feeling at the Statehouse now is that the final selection is rapidly dwindling down to either Foran or Simon as far as regular organization is concerned. It is almost taken for granted that State Auditor Michael J. Howlett will be slated for secretary of state and will, if reluctantly, accept that nomination while still holding out for governor as long as he can.

Involvement in the race track story has eliminated another Chicagoan, George Dunne, president of the Cook County Board, who had rapidly developed as a strong possibility for governor.

Daniel Walker, the maverick walking candidate, is expected to stick to his declaration that he will run in the primary no matter what Daley and his slate-makers may decide.

A primary challenge by Chicagoan Walker could be troublesome for the regular organization, since 1972 is expected to be a turbulent and unpredictable political year.

This makes it all the more important for Daley to come up with an organization ticket strategy that Walker be crushed in the primary.

In trying to assess whether Simon or Foran will win out in the end for governor, one encounters that old and vast gulf between Chicago and Downstate. Democrats in Chicago and Downstate look at the political future through different eyes.

To Downstaters, Simon has already proven himself the most popular Democrat in Illinois and there should be no question about nominating him for governor.

But talk to a Chicago Democrat and you encounter consternation that anyone but a Chicagoan should be considered for governor. They note that it has always been difficult for Democrats to elect a Downstate governor.

The Simon-Foran matter could come down to a game of political poker.

Simon might threaten to mount a primary challenge of his own if the gubernatorial nod went to Foran. Such a move could split the Democratic party in Illinois to a degree unmatched for almost 40 years.

But Simon would be gambling his whole political future and nobody up to now has ever bluffed Dick Daley.

Hand Tools Stolen

Two tool boxes containing mechanic's hand tools valued at $250 were stolen in a burglary at Garner's Garage, Pontoon and Nameoki Roads, it was reported at 7 a.m. Friday. Entry was gained by forcing a hasp on a rear door.

Player, Tapes Stolen

A stereo tape player, nine tapes and a vibrator valued at $100 were stolen from the auto of Pam Brooks, 224 Lynch Ave., while it was parked on the side of her home during the night, she reported at 8:30 a.m. Friday.

CREW OF FIRST GREEK SHIP THRU LOCAL LOCKS SHOPS AT SCHERMER

Evidently Schermers' is known far and wide. Last Thursday afternoon we noticed six young handsome men come into our store, each one grab a shopping cart, and starting loading up groceries like they were going out of style.

Upon inquiry we learned that they had distinguished visitors. Capt. P. N. Polychronakis of the M/V Mini Lama and some of his crew. The captain was a delightful young man, probably about 30 years, who spoke fair English. He told us that the "Mini Lama" was the first Greek ship ever to go through the local locks and that his was the first of many that would follow.

He didn't explain how he knew about our store. When we asked, "how did you find our store?", he thought we wanted his opinion, so his reply was, "Very nice store—Very good prices." He did ask for some of our business cards so he could tell the other Greek captains who will follow, where the best place to shop is when you hit the port of Granite City.

CREW INDUSTRY CALLS SCHERMERS

We had a call from American Steel last week which went like this: "Schermers? We need some Black Strap Molasses and we understand that if anybody could have it, you would." Well, this happened to be one of the items we overlooked since the fire, but we got busy right away and it came in Friday morning. American Steel has their and we have it on the shelf in the syrup department. See today's ad.

Hall-Novak Nuptials

Announcement is made of the wedding of Mrs. Virginia F. Novak of St. Louis and Gene R. Hall of Granite City. The double ring ceremony was performed Sept. 27 at a St. Louis church.

Mrs. Betty Curia of Florissant, Mo., and R. Michael Odell of Granite City were the couple's only attendants.

The bride chose a white coat-dress ensemble, accented with beige trimming. She wore a brief veil attached to a matching bow in her hair and her corsage was of orange-yellow Sweetheart roses and baby breath.

The matron of honor selected a blue frock and matching coat detailed in white, a blue hat with a short veil and white accessories. A corsage of yellow roses was pinned at the shoulder.

After the ceremony, a dinner and reception was held at Lombardo's Restaurant in St. Louis for family and friends of the couple.

Mrs. Hall is a teacher in the St. Louis school system. Her husband is employed as loan officer at Baden Bank in St. Louis.

The couple is residing at 7415 St. Diego Ave., Normandy, Mo.

Among the local guests at the reception were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hall and sons, Jim and Joe; Mr. and Mrs. Gerald F. Hall and sons, Andy, Pat and Kenny; Mrs. Minnie Homyer; Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Rhodes and son, Paul; and Mr. and Mrs. Sid Vaughn, all of Granite City; and Al Lampe and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Curia of St. Louis County.

OCTOBER BRIDE. Mrs. Leonard J. Scaturro, the former Miss Lynn Marie Clay, who was married Saturday afternoon at Sacred Heart Catholic Church. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence L. Clay Jr., 11 Devon Hill Lane.

Scaturro-Clay Ceremony At Sacred Heart Church

Bouquets of white blossoms decorated the altar and white satin bows marked the aisle pews at Sacred Heart Catholic Church for the wedding Saturday afternoon of Miss Lynn Marie Clay, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence L. Clay Jr., 11 Devon Hill Lane, and Leonard John Scaturro, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Scaturro, 808 Third St., Venice.

The Rev. Patrick Plinn officiated at the 2 o'clock ceremony.

Mrs. Clara Judd, organist, furnished a program of wedding music and accompanied the soloist, Paul Lopiccolo, who sang "Ave Maria," "One Hand, One Heart," "Let It Be Me" and the Lord's Prayer.

The bride wore a traditional gown of ivory silk faced with a sole and re-embroidered Alencon lace. The empire bodice was fashioned with a high wedding ring collar and long straight sleeves with heavy appliques of the rich lace and pearls enhancing the bodice front and down the sleeves.

A full A-line skirt flowed into a chapel train accented with motifs of lace and pearls and caught at the back waist with a large flat bow. A matching Juliet cap of Alencon and pearls held in place the bride's bouffant silk illusion veil and she carried a cascade bouquet of white roses, stephanotis and baby breath, intermingled with English ivy.

Miss Jean Svezia was maid of honor and Mrs. Richard Lucido and Miss Marie Scaturro, a sister of the groom, were bridesmaids.

They were dressed alike in gowns of ivory chiffon bodices and full length moss green chiffon skirts. The dresses were styled with high ruffled necklines, long sheer sleeves and ruffled jabots, detailed with tiny buttons.

Floral motifs of moss green, masked with ivory velvet ribbon, encircled the waistline and cuffs and on their hair they wore short veils of ivory silk illusion sprinkled with dainty moss green flowers. They carried colonial bouquets of white button mums, baby breath and greenery, tied with green satin bows.

David Scaturro, the groom's brother, was best man, serving with Ken Patterson and Jim Miller, groomsmen. Wally

Ask for Periodic Review of Judges

By RAY MCHUGH
 Chief, Washington Bureau
 Copy News Service
 Washington — Sen. Harry Byrd, the conservative-minded independent from Virginia, has proposed a Senate review every eight years on the qualifications of federal circuit judges.

Federal judges are appointed for life.

"It is time that we made federal judges more responsible to the people," Byrd says.

"Too many have assumed more and more power and have run rampant in asserting authority over the daily lives of all Americans."

"In recent years, the federal courts have acted under the premise that the Constitution is whatever the judges say it is."

Byrd has introduced a constitutional amendment that would subject all judges to reconfirmation by the Senate every eight years.

Byrd said review is necessary because in recent years federal judges have increasingly ignored the unwritten canon of judicial restraint, as expressed by such great justices as Holmes, Brandeis, Hughes, Cardozo and Frankfurter.

"This restraint, he says, 'was one of our most laudable judicial principles.'"

"Prayer has been swept from our schools; the historic right of a legislature to restrict itself has been abolished; sociological treatises have replaced the common law; traditional equity powers have been enlarged to allow rule by judicial fiat," Byrd says.

"Mr. Justice Cardozo once noted that if judges substituted to substitute their personal sense of justice for rules of law, the reign of law will end and the rule of benevolent despots will begin."

"Is not that about where we find ourselves today?"

The Virginia senator complains that too often the hallmark of the modern court judge is power, not reason.

"The revolution which began in the Supreme Court has permeated the lower federal courts," he says.

"Judges of these courts have, in many cases, arrogated to themselves the prerogatives of lords of the Middle Ages."

"Nothing in our system at present exists to control these judges. They have lifetime appointments. The passions of the moment are unrestrained."

Byrd says some judges have undertaken administrative and political activities.

One court ordered a state to force the election of local officers, though the issue never had been presented to the court by any of the parties involved, he said.

"One federal judge has stated that he is contemplating the consolidation of the school system of two counties and one city," he added.

"If this can be done, what is to prevent the enforcement of total mergers of cities and counties?"

Byrd fully supports the concept of an independent judiciary.

"The legislation," introduced simply provides a method by which the courts might be made more accountable to the people."

Byrd says a similar system for state judges.

Budget Bureau Not the Group to 'Restudy' Need for a Dental School in Downstate

Money and education are factors that cannot be totally separated in state governmental deliberations. But we wonder whether it is wise for Governor Ogilvie to permit decisions on school needs to be made by the Bureau of the Budget and its directors.

For example the 1971-72 capital appropriation for the SIU-SW School of Dental Medicine—voted by the General Assembly and approved by the governor—is not being released because the budget bureau wants to "restudy the question of need for an additional dental school in Illinois."

Part of the background of the situation is that the Illinois Board of Higher Education is in disfavor at the executive mansion because the board publicly balked at the governor's general spending outlook. Although losing most of its main function of university budgetary review to the budget bureau, the Higher Education Board cast around and found something to occupy itself; the board asked all state colleges and universities to submit lists of programs which could be eliminated to achieve a 15% reduction.

SIU-SW President Rendleman has responded in this fashion: He would be "extremely reluctant" to delay development of the dental school. But he has concluded it would be more appropriate to make budget cuts in that area rather than in academic programs already in full operation.

A faculty has been recruited for the dental school and a curriculum has been developed, but no undergraduate instructional programs are under way. Key milestones in the school's history have been as follows:

1. Development of the School of Dental Medicine began in June 1968 following adoption by the Higher Education Board of a health education report recommending establishment of a dental school on the local campus.

2. In January 1969, Southern Illinois University announced the school would be housed temporarily at the Alton center until permanent facilities could be built on the 2,600-acre Southwestern campus.

3. SIU trustees in February 1969 appointed Dr. Frank J. Sobkowski as dean of the proposed school. He came here from the University of California at Los Angeles, where he was Dentiary School assistant dean.

4. For more than two years, the dean has been guiding curriculum development and recruiting staff members. At present, 27 faculty members have been appointed. Curriculum for one program culminating in granting of the doctor of dental medicine degree has been prepared.

5. Early in 1971 the school was granted "accreditation eligible" status by the American Dental Association's Council on Dental Education.

Approximately the same number of students, has a school budget of $13,000,000.00.

Why should there be such a discrepancy?

FOREIGN AID ADDS TO BURDEN ON TAXPAYERS

The economy of America and its people lies within the two-party system. But I wonder if President Nixon and his advisors have the answer that will curb inflation and stop unnecessary spending of our taxes for useless programs, such as foreign aid and the space program?

To me, this is nothing more than political nonsense. It's costing American taxpayers millions of dollars each year, and it doesn't take a polished, educated brain to figure this one out.

It has a big impact on the economy of our country. It's making the rich richer and the poor poorer. And these bills grow larger and larger year after year.

The poor people are paying the bills with high taxes, while some of our rich pay no taxes at all.

Sometimes I wonder if this could be the cause for a lot of unrest in our country. Nevertheless, we must meet the crises that are facing our country.

It's time both political parties stop fighting for political control. There are things far more important to the poor people and working men and women of America.

If the President and Congressmen are not big enough to stop inflation, with money and natural resources than all the other countries in the world, then why do they want this situation for our elected officials and the leaders of both political parties.

When poor people can see no future for themselves and their children, they begin to wonder what's wrong and what's going to happen to them.

It's time our President and people, by all means, should tion. An on-site visit by an accreditation study team is scheduled this month, one of the steps required before the first class of dental students can be admitted.

Traditionally, the time schedule to establish a dental school is six or seven years. But because of the severe shortage of dentists in Southern Illinois—and the urgent recommendation of the Higher Board of Education that the school be opened as soon as possible—SIU has sharply reduced the time ordinarily required for program development. It has indicated its readiness to accept the first group of 24 students during 1972.

Illinois ranks fifth in population among the 50 states and fourth in per capita income. But a statewide dental manpower survey in 1966 showed it ranks only 14th in dentist-population ratio. The survey classed 55 of the 102 counties as "urgent need areas for dental personnel."

Illinois' three dental schools are all located in the Chicago area, at Loyola, Northwestern and the University of Illinois. The latter school has begun some instruction in Peoria, also in the northern area of the state.

It seems clear that the urgency of a Southern Illinois dental school continues but that the Illinois Budget Bureau is not the best judge of such urgency. Yet, with the combination of its monetary control and its "restudy of the question of need," despite legislative action, the Dental School may be delayed indefinitely.

The Budget Bureau may be expert in knowing how much money is available, and it is proper for this to be taken into account in charting total state expenditures. The bureau has no real expertise in comparing the relative merits of various spending proposals, however, and somebody ought to tell it to recognize the dental school's deservedly high priority, along with the other important SIU-SW programs.

Old age is one of the few things we acquire without any effort.

No Mystery About How to Word Stricter Law On Ethics; Problem Is Getting It Enacted

A proposed ethics legislative package being considered by the Illinois House Ethics Committee is described by Attorney General William Scott as the strongest such proposal ever made in this state. But he is probably right in suggesting that it be beefed up, that criminal as well as civil penalties be provided.

We say "probably" only because the difficulty of securing passage is the chief reason why more effective laws are not already on the books. There has been no mystery about how to word regulations to discourage fraudulent actions, but too often in the past there has been insufficient desire to adopt appropriate rules.

The proposed bill would bar public officials from financial dealings with a public agency of which they are members. They could accept no compensation other than that provided by law. Legislators could not work for other governmental entities.

Elected public officials, candidates and public employees paid more than $20,000 a year would list economic interest of themselves and their family members, plus contributors of more than $100. Officials and candidates would make full disclosure of campaign gifts and spending.

The committee will meet again Oct. 12, and there is pressure on it to act affirmatively. Thanks to the disclosures of Illinois race track property owned by so many officials, better financial disclosure procedures are needed promptly if public confidence is to be restored.

But experience has shown that a fully adequate law is unlikely unless citizens make it clear they will be satisfied with nothing less.

Single Americans—36 Million Pay Price of Loneliness for Privacy

Editor's Note: There are 36 million Americans who are single, including those who never have married, are divorced or have lost their mates by death. This is the first of two articles dealing with the single American, the good and the bad, the advantages and the disadvantages.

By PAUL CORCORAN
 Copy News Service

For the young adult, being single usually is a temporary state. Marriage may be just around the corner but there is time to have fun, to meet new friends and explore the mysteries of the opposite sex.

For the divorced middle-aged man, being single offers opportunities that make him feel like a child in a candy store. Every woman looks good, and he wants to sample everything he can.

To a single woman who has fought her way to the top in a male-dominated business, being single is a source of economic success but frustration in a society which believes woman's place is in the home and her ultimate fulfillment in raising children.

There are 36 million single persons in America, or one for every 2½ married adults. They come in all shapes and sizes, all races, all religions, all professions, and with all degrees of sexual appetites.

Some never have married, nor will they; others will try a second time, or more, to find the "right one."

Most about one thing, says Dr. Marie Edwards, a clinical psychologist in Los Angeles: "Unfortunately, society puts a stigma on being single, and people who make some people apologetic."

Dr. Edwards conducts a seminar at the University of Southern California called "The challenge of being single."

There are advantages, she said, citing responses from participants to the question: "What do you like most about being single?"

DRINKING DETRIMENTAL TO INDIVIDUALS, NATIONS
 To the Editor:

What price is America paying each year for the results of the use of alcoholic beverages? Drunkenness seems to be the way of life for so many Americans, with ten million known alcoholics. These are people who have lost their balance by its use.

There are over 25,000 violent deaths on the highways per year, a number almost equal to the ten-year death toll in Vietnam. In addition, another 400,000 are injured, many for life. Add to this broken homes, hungry children, suicides and all sorts of crime, and increasing by leaps and bounds.

Should we listen for a moment to the wise leaders of the past?

First, Solomon, judged to have been the wisest man who ever lived, was asked by God what he would like most. Solomon's reply was that he desired wisdom and a understanding. This wise man said, "Wine is a mocker, strong drink is raging and whoever is deceived thereby is not wise."

Solomon also described the drunkard: "Who hath wept? Who hath sorrow? Who hath contention? Who hath babbling? Who hath wounds without cause? Who hath redness of eyes? They that tarry long at the wine. They seek after mixed wine."

The great football coach of Notre Dame, Knute Rockne, considered the greatest of all time, said to a young man, "If you do, you cannot play on my team."

Thomas A. Edison said, "I have a greater use for my brain 'than to poison it with alcohol.'"

A test made with mice using alcohol for several months resulted in a general deterioration of brain function, loss of memory and a lessened ability to learn. Since the basic biochemistry of the brain of a mouse is the same as man's, "Family Health" warns that "drunk men, who often obtain 40% of their calories through alcohol, are similarly risking brain damage."

What about our lawmakers, law enforcers, educators, bankers, airplane pilots, bus drivers, bachelors, bakers, and candlestick makers or average John Q. Public?

Abraham Lincoln said, "I would rather lose my right hand than to sign a document that would tend to perpetuate the liquor traffic."

George Washington said, "Drink is the source of all evil and the ruin of half the workmen of the country."

Benjamin Franklin said, "The fellow workmen in London were great gluttons of beer. I thought it a detestable custom. Each had four to five shillings to pay out for his wages every Saturday for their muddling liquor, an expense I was free from. And their wives kept them selves always well understanding with beer."

*The late Peter Marshall, who was so respected, served until both the Democrats and Republicans as chaplain of the Senate. His refusal to drink as he dined with world dignitaries was the reason for the title of one of his fine books, "Mr. Jones, Meet the Master."

*Mr. Jones, referred to in the book, an American industrialist, was overwhelmed by the Chaplain's insight into the plight of the steelmaker's own factory employees as a result of their use of liquor.

Following World War I, General John J. Pershing said, "Ban the entire liquor industry from the United States. Close every brewery, suppress drinking by severe punishment to the drinker, and the nation will find itself amazed by the efficiency and alertness of the citizenry."

A slight gasp was heard. The doctor, looking the toastmaster in the eyes, said, "I am a surgeon. My brain must be clear, my muscles firm, and my nerves steady. No one can drink alcoholic liquors without blunting these physical powers, which must always keep on edge. As a surgeon, I must not drink."

Dr. Karl Menninger has stated, "Alcohol is the nation's single largest medical problem."

Says Dr. Haven Emerson, "Alcohol in moderate doses can be shown by delicate instruments to affect the functions of sight, hearing and touch sensations."

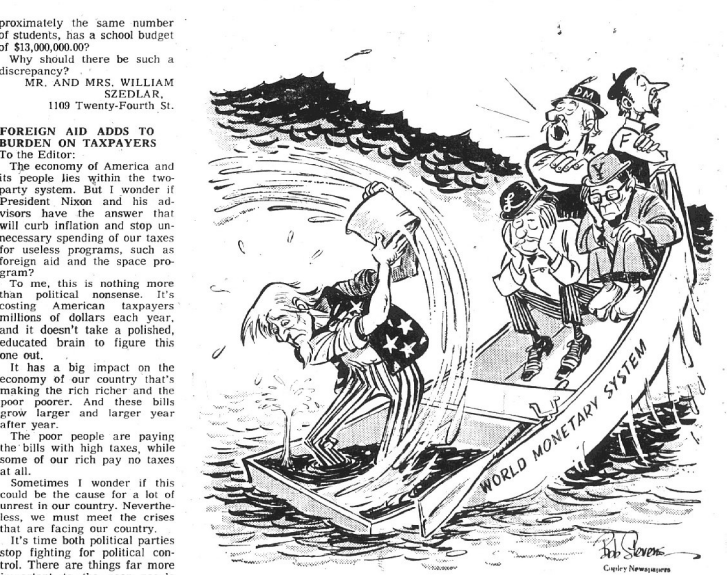

In summary, should we take stock of ourselves anew in America?

Steel Production Hits 12-Year Low in August

Less raw steel was produced in the U. S. in August than in any month since October 1965, when almost the entire domestic steel industry was shut down by a strike.

The August 1971 plunge came as steel consumers dug into heavy stocks built up as a hedge against the possibility of a work stoppage when a three-year labor contract covering major producers expired on July 31. A new three-year pact was arrived at without a strike.

U. S. mills produced only 5,774,000 tons of raw steel during August. This was a drop of 4,168,000 tons from the 9,942,000 tons they poured in July and just slightly more than half of June's 11,691,000 ton output.

Despite the stockpiling earlier this year, domestic mills produced almost two million tons less during the first months of 1971 than they did in the first two-thirds of last year. From January through August of 1970, they poured 87,485,000 tons of raw steel as against 89,456,000 tons during the comparable period in 1971.

In an unusual development, electric furnaces poured more steel during August than did open hearths. Electric furnaces totaled 1,288,000 tons compared with 1,209,000 tons for the open hearths.

However, more steel was produced by the modern basic oxygen process — the dominant steelmaking method in this country — than was produced by electric and open hearth combined. Oxygen furnaces produced 3,277,000 tons of the August total.

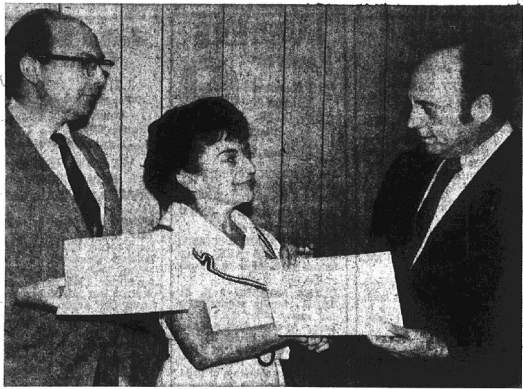

Of the 87,485,000 tons of raw steel poured in the first eight months of 1971, oxygen furnaces accounted for 45,156,000 tons. Open hearths provided 42,329,000 tons of the total, while electric furnaces made the remaining 14,572,000 tons.

A steelmaking index, based on average production during 1967 as 100, stood at 53.4 for August of this year. That compares with an index of 52.6 for July and 109.9 for June.

$1 1/2 Million Suit Filed Over Auto Accident

A suit for $1 1/2 million has been filed by a Granite City law firm in behalf of William McDaniel against the Blatter Corp. and Paul Blatter, doing business as Blatter Motor Sales of Litchfield, in Madison County Circuit Court.

The complaint alleges that on Oct. 15, 1970, the steering mechanism on a new auto he had purchased from the agency, driven 140 miles, became defective and caused him to control and sustain injuries in a resulting accident.

Director Robert J. James, right, presented the awards.

Most 18-Year-Olds Can Register But Must Be 'Permanent' to Vote

Illinois Attorney General William J. Scott has ruled that 18- and 20-year-olds seeking to register must be given exactly the same treatment by election officials as applicants for voter registration who are 21 or over.

"An applicant under 21 who applies for registration must receive the identical treatment and be subject to the same inquiries as apply to those over 21," Scott said.

"This means also that voters under 21 must meet the permanent residence requirements. If there is a reasonable doubt that they do, their right to vote at the particular place where they registered is subject to challenge," the attorney general said.

The opinion was requested by State Rep. Arthur A. Telser, (R), Chicago. In a letter to Scott, he wrote:

TRUCK STRIKES AUTO
A truck driven by Robert V. Stewart, Glen Carbon, making a left turn, struck an auto driven by Gravelly A. Slusher, 214 Wilson Park Lane, at 2:30 p.m. Thursday at 22nd and State streets.

"It has come to my attention through news media that certain counties may be imposing higher qualifications for the registration to vote of certain 18-year-old applicants than are required by statute.

"If so, the propriety of such action is certain to be raised at the forthcoming session of the General Assembly. In order that I may be properly prepared to act if new legislation is introduced, I would appreciate your opinion on the legality of the alleged registration requirements.

Some county clerks have been requiring students to produce a marriage certificate, a driver's license, proof of employment or other special requirements before they would allow them to register, Scott said.

He noted, "Present statutory requirements for registration in Illinois is provided only for proof of age, six-month residence in the state and 30 days in the precinct. Those requirements, and only those requirements, are applicable to registrants 18 years of age as well as those over 21. Attorney General Scott warned, however, that while young voters may register without answering unusual questions, they will risk having their vote challenged and may be subject to perjury charges if they are in fact not permanent residents of the state.

He pointed out that while the old 1970 Constitution merely required residence within the state and precinct, the new Constitution in Article III, Section 1, requires that a citizen "has been a permanent resident of this state for at least six months next preceding any election."

"The requirement of 'permanent residence,' is very significant," Scott said.

The attorney general's opinion noted a number of Illinois Supreme Court decisions dealing with residency of student voters.

In general, the courts have ruled that students, in order to vote in a college town, must prove that they have "permanent" residence there and not at the home of their parents.

Illinois Fluoridation Progress Reaches 96%

By JOAN MURARO
Copley News Service

SPRINGFIELD — More than 10 million people in Illinois — about 96% of all those who receive drinking water from public water supplies — are now receiving fluorides in their water, supplies — are now receiving fluorides in their water.

Calling the state's fluoridation picture "quite good," Dr. Carl Sebelius, chief of the division of dental health in the Illinois department of public health, said the division is now following up the status of fluoridation plans in 214 small communities.

The 214 have not yet actually begun treating their water supplies with fluorides, even though this has been shown to dramatically reduce tooth decay among children.

Dr. Sebelius said that probably less than 100,000 people are involved in the 214 communities which have not yet started fluoridating their water supplies in compliance with an amendment to the state's public water supply act, adopted by the Illinois legislature in 1967.

Plan Informal Meetings
"Most of these communities have filed plans, or are making plans, to begin fluoridating their water," he said, "and in the case of the handful which are still holding out, we will set up informal meetings with them at first, to find if they have any real justification for delay."

Some communities contend the project is too expensive. Dr. Sebelius said, adding that he understands many small communities in Illinois are getting by on $500 — certainly not expensive compared to the benefits.

Some anti-fluoridation groups, such as the Pure Water Association, he said, have been contacting these communities promising that the decision to fluoridate or not is going to be made optional, and urging the communities to take no action at this time, despite the requirements of state law.

Recently, the division followed up 70 cases of communities which were supposedly fluoridating water supplies, but were not filing required samples with the department.

It was found that all but one of the communities, Dr. Sebelius said, actually had fluoridated water, but through a misunderstanding were sending water samples to Springfield in glass bottles, instead of the required plastic containers. As a result, he said, the water samples were only given bacteriological tests.

Considering the widespread, deeply held differences of opinion on fluoridation when the legislation was passed, Dr. Sebelius said, "most communities in Illinois have conformed very well."

He said the Illinois legislation, which makes fluoridation mandatory for every public water supply serving 10 households or more, is the most stringent of all laws on fluoridation in the nation.

Fatal Accident Causes $20,000 Dram Shop Suit

A dram shop suit for $20,000 has been filed for Ruth Flagg, administratrix of the estate of the late William Martin Agles Sr., of Edwardsville, for his children, William Martin Agles Jr. and Angela Joan Agles, against Venice-Madison American Legion Post 207, Big Ten's Tavern in Madison, Cost-off's Tavern in Madison and Walter Simmons as chairman of the Madison County Democratic Central Committee.

The complaint alleges that on Oct. 11, 1970, Mr. Agles became intoxicated at the establishments before he drove his auto onto the McKinley Bridge and struck an abutment, causing fatal injuries. Mr. Agles had attended a Democratic dinner at the American Legion hall prior to the accident.
